LEADERSHIP

Boris Petrov (President & CEO) grew up in Washington State, and upon the completion of High-School I enlisted in the U.S. Navy in which I spent close to 10 years of Active Service. Since then, went on to Earn an M.B.A. in Finance worked for in Aviation Logistics, NASA, and as a Data Analyst for the Department of Defense.

I've always dreamed of opening and operating a small business that would provide great service and the best prices and would practice the core values of honesty and fairness and to deliver folks with a better service. In Business School the first thing you are thought when planning to start a business is to find a problem and solve it. Through Entrepreneurship we can tackle multiple problems and go into business providing sound solutions. And you guessed it, hence the idea of starting a Vending Company came about.
